

Western Grain & Processing Division is wholly owned by Toepfer International.

Toepfer International started in 1919 and is headquartered in Hamburg Germany. Today there are 38 offices worldwide handling more than 42 million tonnes of grains, oilseeds, feedstuff, special crops, fertilizer and bio fuels.

Western Grain & Processing Division has two processing facilities near North Battleford Saskatchewan. These facilities are soft handle facilities which aid in maintaining quality. That means value. We understand the products coming through our facilities are food and we handle it with the utmost care and attention through our quality assurance standards and procedures. These facilities have the capability to load railcars, containers, intermodals and trucks, in either bulk, mini bulk or bagged packing.

By incorporating the direct contacts we have with producers from seed to production to processing and through our comprehensive logistics chain to virtually any port in the world, we offer a complete package for every customer.

The sales and logistics office is located in Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, where we serve our customers in English, Spanish, Mandarin and Vietnamese. We offer a full portfolio of products including peas, lentils, chickpeas, canary seed, mustard seed, flax seed, canola and more.

If you have any questions or would like a price quote, feel free to contact us or any worldwide office of Toepfer International.
